

The Quiet Pond

Riyu sat beside the pond with his scarf tucked beneath his chin.

A round moon shone on the water.

Then a leaf landed.

Plip.

The moon broke into pale ribbons.

Riyu leaned closer. For a moment, he could not find its round shape at all.

He left the water alone and watched.

The circles widened. One reached a lily pad.

A breeze arrived before the pond grew still.

Now there were new ribbons.

Riyu followed one with his eyes.

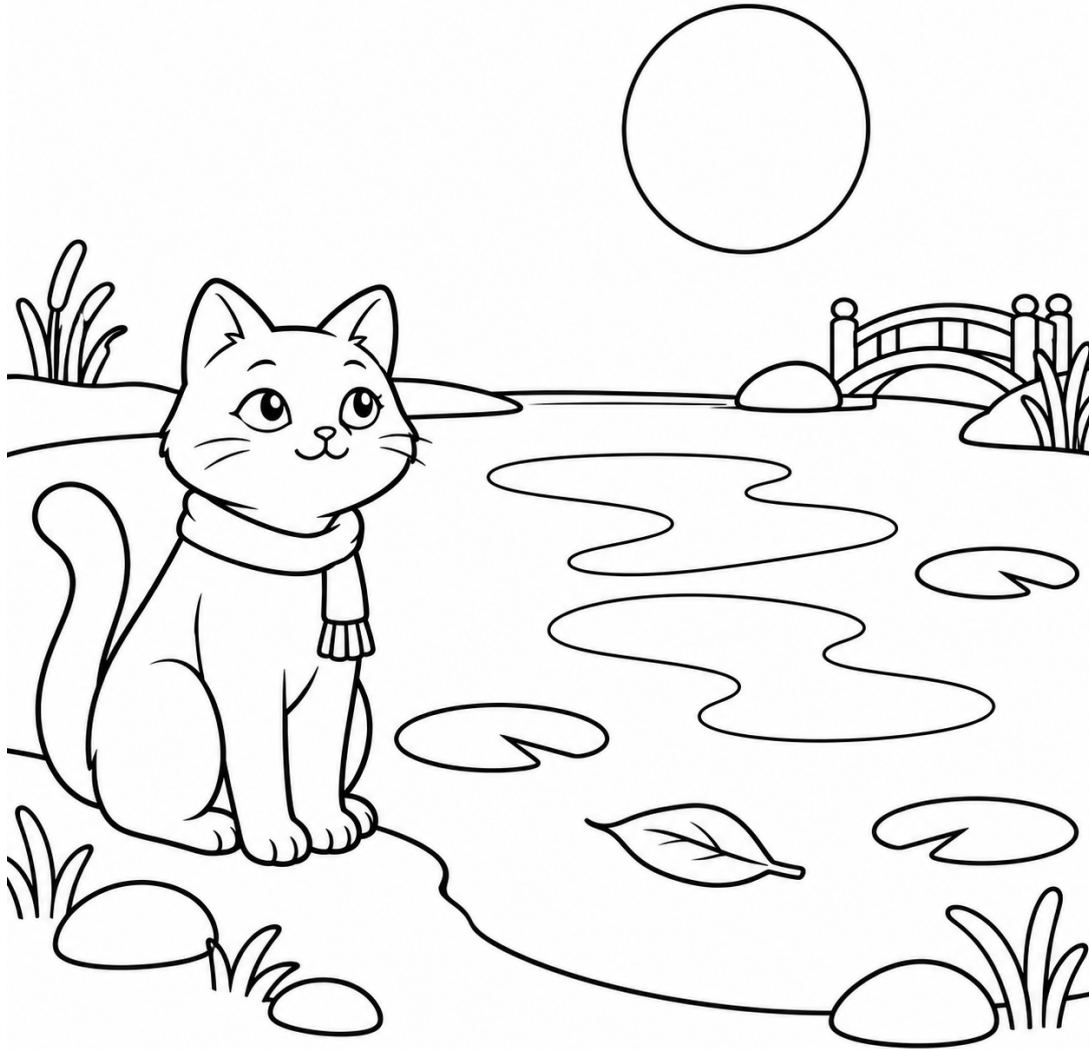

The pond had another picture to show him.

A little moment from The Secret Moon Pond's world.

Explore the full story at Meowelo.com/books

The Quiet Pond

What do you notice first?

You don't have to answer. You can just keep coloring.

Using markers? Place a spare sheet underneath.